Supplementary material for the Antiquaries Journal

Common types of supplementary material include audio and video files and large datasets or tables. Datasets, tables and other textual materials can also be submitted as PDF, Excel or Word files. All supplementary material must be supplied for peer review with the main paper.

Where material is to be supplied as a Word/PDF document, on acceptance of your paper for publication the Editor (lporter@sal.org.uk) will send to you a Word template into which you should place your text and images.

You should ensure that each supplementary file is cited in the text, and that a footnote appears with the citation to say that the material is only available in the online version. A note about the availability of supplementary material should be included at the end of the bibliography under the heading 'Supplementary material'. The supplementary material will be assigned a URL by Cambridge Core at the copyediting stage.

Supplementary material files themselves will not be circulated with the page proofs, nor will the Society or Cambridge University Press carry out any editing work on them. The material will not be typeset so it is entirely down to the author to check that the supplementary material is correct, complete and set in house style, does not contain spelling or syntactical errors and that all references, cross-references and so on are included in full and have been checked for their accuracy. If the supplementary material has notes, it must have its own separate and discrete bibliography, even if this means repeating entries from the bibliography attached to the main paper.

Copyright

All supplementary material is subject to the same copyright requirements as primary material; this is clearly specified in the copyright form that will be sent to the author with first proofs. For further details, please see Permissions and Copyright (supplied separately).

File naming

Files should be named in such a way that it is clear to which article they belong and what they contain, e.g.

- SMITH_appendix_table_1.xls
 SMITH_supplement-movie1.mov Audio files
- Preferred formats: mp3 or mp4
- Accepted formats: aac, aiff or wav
- Maximum file size 15Mb

Video files

Video files should be submitted according to the following specifications.

Preferred formats: mpg/mpeg, mp4 or mov

Acceptable formats: wmv or avi

Maximum file size: 15Mb

Minimum dimensions: 320 pixels wide by 240 pixels deep

Verify that the videos are viewable in QuickTime or Windows Media Player

For each video, provide a citation in the appropriate place in the manuscript text and include a title and pertinent copy, preferably limited to 20 words.

This citation will appear in print as a boxed text and also specify the video file format. In the case of multiple video files, number them in the order in which they should be viewed.

If associated with a figure, please include a citation at the end of the figure caption explaining the video's function, its file format, and that it is accessible at Cambridge's CJO site: journals.cambridge.org.

The video will be posted at the site of the appropriate journal title, volume, issue number, and article. At the article's title, the video can be accessed via a link that states 'Supplemental materials', or a more specific label such as 'Movies'.

Please be advised that neither Cambridge University Press nor the Society will edit your video file. It will be posted online exactly as supplied. If deemed unacceptable, the author will be responsible for rectifying the problem and supplying an acceptable file.ther acceptable file formats
